

By the Lords Iustices, and Councell.

A Proclamation concerning dying woods to be brought in logs for the House of Correction.

Whereas upon mature consideration it hath bene thought fit that all sorts of dying woods, viz. Brackill wood, S. Martin wood, Lampeach wood, & yellow fusticke wood of all sorts, & all other kindes of dying wood whatsoever shalbe brought into this Kingdome in the logg for the further helpe of the House of Correction, newly established in Dublin. These are therefore to will and command, and in his Maiesties Name straightly to charge and require, that all such woods as shalbe from, and after the end of two moneths after the publishing hereof, be brought into the Port of Dublin, shalbe brought only in logs, and not otherwise, whereof all Merchants and Merchants strangers within the City and County of Dublin, are to take due notice, and to give especiall intelligence vnto their severall Factors and Agents wheresoever thereof within two moneths after the date hereof, as they will answer the contrary thereof at their perill, and vpon paine to haue all such dying woods as shalbe brought into the said Port otherwise then in loggs, as aforesaid, to be seized vpon, and disposed of, at his Maiesties pleasure. And wee doe further straightly charge and command, that all dying woods, as aforesaid, which are or shalbe in any Merchants, or Merchants strangers hands in Dublin, or in the County of the City of Dublin, or in the County of Dublin, shall with all expedition be brought into the said House of Correction, for which there shalbe payde for the sawing of it 5 shil. per hundred, ster. for sawing of euery hundred thereof, the same to be as carefully and well done as in any other Country, and security to bee given that each partie shall haue their wood againe in good maner. And wee doe hereby further publish and declare, that if any person or persons whatsoever, shall obstinately refuse or neglect to bring in the said woods in loggs within three dayes next after the Proclamation hereof to the place aforesaid (the said wood being in the said City, or within the County of the said City) or in the County of Dublin, that then & vpon such default all & euery such parcels of wood, not brought in as aforesaid, shall ipso facto be seized to his Maiesties vse for the contempt of the parties owing the same, as not respecting the weale-publique, or the benefite of so good an vse. And wee doe hereby further straightly charge & command all, & all maner of persons whatsoever, that no man presume to sell any of the said dying woods whatsoever within the sayde City of Dublin, or in the County of the sayde City of Dublin, with the suburbs thereof, as well within the Liberties as without, vntill they be returned out of the sayde House of Correction, sawde into dust as aforesaid, vpon payne to haue the same seized & disposed of at his Maiesties pleasure. And lastly, wee doe hereby straightly charge & command, that all and singular the Officers of the Custome-house of the Port of Dublin, shall henceforth diligently see and cause all such woods there arriving or brought from thence to be sent vnto the said House of Correction in loggs from time to time, to the vse and end aboue specified, and for the good of the said House of Correction, according to the tenor, wel-meaning & intent hereof, for which euery man shal receiue satisfaction according to the value of his goods so deposited, & sent into the said House, as in reason shalbe required for the same.
